Susan Anderson, a native of the Midwest, reflects on her early years saying, “I have been drawn to artistic pursuits since childhood.” She began her career as a freelance graphic designer while raising their three children. “My ability to understand the image and messaging desired by my clients in their package design goals provided invaluable experience in seeing a subject, relating to the ultimate viewer, and being able to tell a story with the composition and use of color.” During this period, Susan spent also four years as the lettering artist for the syndicated Dick Tracy comic strip and taught illustration in the advertising department at a local community college.

Living in the western suburbs of Chicago allowed her to study at The Palette and Chisel Academy of Fine Arts which further enhanced her oil painting skills. She has worked with pen and ink, charcoal, and acrylics but loves the flexibility and textures of oils. Susan continues to participate in numerous workshops by artists from around the country and abroad. It was her trip to Provence, France that ignited a passion for plein air. “The learning never stops as I continue to refine my personal style.” Susan has also taken workshops in Scottsdale, Utah, Chicago, Michigan, Tennessee and Florida.

She enjoys painting any subject that has a pattern of light and shadow. “When choosing a subject, I look for color, light and shadow patterns, and shape.” Her subjects include architecture, landscape, still life and figures. “There is knowledge gained from direct observation, and the skills derived from painting en plein air can be seen in my work. My goal is to take the observer’s eye and lead them through each piece. Many of my followers feel a personal connection to my oil paintings whether it’s the colors or the subject matter.”

Susan currently resides with her husband in Fort Myers, Florida and they spend their summers in northern Wisconsin. These varied environments provide her with an incredible variety of ever changing subject matter and inspiration. She paints with plein air groups and participates in national and international juried exhibits and competitions.

Artist Statement

Painting in the open air is a joy to me and is inspirational when I paint more experimentally with mixed media in the studio. Although the non-representational pieces are complex and interesting, nature is often reflected in the finished piece by shapes, colors and mood.

Resume

I obtained B.S. degrees from Michigan State University and Eastern Michigan University and practiced interior design in the facilities department of Michigan National Bank for many years. My art studies began as a youth and have continued throughout my adulthood with many instructors and as an avocation I enjoyed. Upon retiring it has become my passion. I work in pastel, oil, acrylic, pen and ink & collage.
